WHEN MARKETING IN WARTIME

Plan menus so that some foods from each MAIN group are served daily.

If certain foods are not available, or if you cannot afford them in cash or ration points, choose other foods from the SAME group which serve similar needs in food value and in menu planning.

In addition to the basic 7 . . . eat any other food you want.

A DOZEN HINTS ON CONSERVATION!

1. Plan meals for the week with alternate choices to use foods available.
2. Try new foods when usual foods are scarce.
3. Buy fresh fruits and vegetables before spending ration points on canned foods.
4. Plan on a weekly basis to meet just your family needs in all perishable products.
5. Cover fresh meat loosely. Wipe with damp cloth just before cooking. If ground, store in extra cool place and cook soon.
6. Store each food where it will keep in best condition until ready for use.
7. Serve some fruits and vegetables raw; cook others in their skins, jackets, or natural covering.
8. Cook vegetables in small amounts of water and only until tender.
9. Serve vegetables in water in which they were cooked or use this water in soups, gravies, and sauces. Use left-over juice from canned or cooked fruit for cold drinks.
10. Use every scrap—bread crumbs in stuffing; meat bones and remnants for soup stock; vegetables in pies and hash; cooking water for soups.
11. Don't take more food on your plate than you will eat.
12. Waste no fats. Store butter and other table fats in tightly covered dishes in a cold dark place away from strong odors. To keep fats, strain fat drippings and store in clean, covered jars in a cool, dark place until used.
